

From Your Little Girl

words & music by Elwood McElveen, Jr.

Like the waves that take the sand,
You've been taken away.

Don't know why, don't understand,
Don't know what to say.

You were loved, you know its true,
And forever you will be.
That fire that burns, that light that shines,
Deep inside of me.

*I just had to say goodbye,
In a way I could call my own.
And though I don't know why,
You're gone.*

You were here not long enough.
I want you back so bad.
To hold me close, and give me love,
To remember the times we had.

I am yours, your only one,
And I want you to know.
You're with me from sun to sun,
And wherever I may go.

*I just had to say goodbye,
In a way I could call my own.
And though I don't know why,
You're gone.*

*I just had to say goodbye,
Although you're gone from my little world,
Love you always,
I will try,
From your little girl.*

©1993 by Elwood McElveen, Jr.