

Sitting By The Fire

---

words & music by elwood

Well I saw you on the slopes today,
Kind of shy didn't have much to say.
But that's ok it'll be all right,
When we're sitting by the fire tonight.

When I was showing off I saw you smile.
And when I fell we laughed for awhile,
And we'll laugh again later on,
When we recall the sight,
When we're sitting by the fire tonight.

*When the slopes are closed,
And the sun is out of view.
I want to be sitting by the fire with you.*

*When the slopes are calm,
And there's nothing left to do.
I want to be sitting by the fire with you.*

Well it's time to go,
But for all we know,
I'll see you once again,
And kiss you in the light,
When were sitting by the fire tonight.

We don't have long so hold me close,
When I'm in your arms the time just goes.
Put your arms around me,
Put the time in flight.
While we're sitting by the fire tonight.

*When the slopes are closed,
And the sun is out of view.
I want to be sitting by the fire with you.*

*When the slopes are calm,
And there's nothing left to do.
I want to be sitting by the fire with you.*

©2009 by Elwood McElveen, Jr.